

Welcoming an adopted child to your secondary school

There is a growing body of scientific evidence that a child's and rights are transferred to a child's adoptive parents.

with the caregiver's other nurturing behaviours (rocking, a secure foundation for the child. When a child's care has early that adults can't be trusted and the world is not safe.

if they don't remember them.

Welcoming an adopted child to your secondary school on “...helping adopted children emotionally, socially and attainment and address their wider needs.” It is good trained and aware of the child's needs.

told us have improved their children's experiences of school special days (such as mothers' day) and school trips difficult

Members also receive access to Adoption UK's resources, regular news updates, and Adoption UK's